HAINES STORE DISCARDS YARD STICKS FOR MEASUREGRAPH

Piece Goods Accurately Measured, Yardage Recorded, Price Calcuated by Latest Device.

Yard sticks and measuring plugs at the Haines dry goods store have been discarded for a recently installed "Measuregraph," which will now be used in the piece goods section. This device accurately measures the goods, records the yardage and computes the price all in one operation.

These Measuregraphs have been installed by the largest stores in the country and are used by Macey's, Marshall Field & Co., Carson, Pirie Scott & Co., and other such concerns. The installation is expensive, the machine costing several hundred dollars. It is a labor saving but not a labor displacing machine. The sales person is required to handle the goods the same as by hand measurement, with the exception that the yardage is measured by the machine with no possibility of a mistake being made. It eliminates all possility of inaccuracy of measurement or price and its use gives far better service to the customer. The dials on which the calcuation is registered, are so placed that the customer can readily check the sales person's measurements and price computation. The machine measures all dress goods, silks, ginghams, muslins and piece goods of all kinds with the exception of lace.

DISTRIBUTE AGRI. BOOKLET PREPARED BY PROF. COOPER

Work on Vitalized Agriculture Instruction Explains Methods in Detail.

"How vitalized agriculture works in Nodaway county, Missouri," is the subject of a bulletin by County Superindent Bert Cooper and issued by the International Harvester Co., of Chicago. These bulletins were received this week by Mr. Cooper and are now ready for distribution to anyone interested in this work.

So many inquiries have been received by Mr. Cooper of the work being done in Nodaway county along vitalized agriculture line that it was found necessary to prepare this booklet, explaining the plan in detail and the work done. All of the inquiries were from other states.

A number of Nodaway county school scenes are in the bulletin. On the cover page is a picture of a field trip by the Belle Grove school. The picture of Garrett school, the first rural school in America to have a work shop making a concrete post and weight at Lasher school; and other work scenes of the pupils are included in the bulletin.

THE KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS STUDENT HOME AT COLUMBIA

Charles E. Kane, Formerly of The Democrat-Forum, Writes Interesting Letter About New Building There.

Charles E. Kane, university publisher of the State University, has written the following letter to James Cummins about the Knights of Columbus student home at Columbia:

I am taking a few minutes off to write to you about the K. of C. student home here, as you requested of me before I left. I am sorry thath I did not get around to it sooner, but I have been very busy getting acquainted with my new job and barely had time to walk past it one evening last week.

Sunday morning however, after mass I strolled over to investigate it, along with some of the students. We went through it from boiler room to top floor, and I can assure you that it is going to be a real monument to the efforts of the Knight of Columbus of Missouri. Understand I am not trying to put anything over, but I can tell you honestly that if I had been a knight and had been introduced to that building I'd have been so proud of the achievement that I'd have busted the top bottom off my vest.

That is a real building. When I went away, more than two years ago, we rather expected that if a building were too be put up it would be in the nature and size of a typical fraternity house, of the sort that are about the size of J. B. Robinson's house and cost —built of brick and stone— in the neighborhood of $40,000. What I did find was a hotel that compares favorably with the Daniel Boone Tavern, which is the town's real hotel.

You probably have seen pictures of the building in the Knights of Columbus papers. It covers about what would be a quarter of a block in the business portion of Maryville, and is three full stories high, in addition to having a basement. On the second and third floors are forty guest rooms, planned to house two men apiece, making a total capacity of about 75 men, when you deduct a room or two for the help. There is a clothes closet in every room, and a bathroom between every two rooms, opening into each.

The outside walls are of brick. The interior walls are of a patent chalky firebrick known as Pyrobar—expensive, but about the best thing for the purpose. The floors are of poured concrete. The building will be heated by steam. In the rear, on the first floor, is a capacious auditorium and dance hall. On the first floor also are the kitchen, dining room and lounge room.

As for the progress, Luke Hart was here a week ago to look the work over and set January 13, I think, as the opening date. The boiler is being installed, and the plasterers are at work. With good weather I think the work ought to be about completed about the first of the year.

As to cost, starting at about $45,000, the estimates have gradually been raised to $125,000. I have it on fairly good authority that the actual cost will be in the neighborhood of 110,000 All the increases were made for good reason—when it was decided to use this Pyrobar, for example, or to install steam heat or to have eaves of copper. The assessment as I understand it, is about $6 a member for all the knights in the state. The Columbus council, with a quota of about $350, has raised closed to $700. The contractor, himself a knight, is said to have given $1,000 which does not appear on the total of the local council.

This is not going to be a private hall for the local council, as some persons have been mean enough to insinuate. The knights here are hoping to be able to rent the auditorium a few nights each month, but they will pay for the privilege just the same as anybody.

The opening, as I understand, is to be an elaborate affair, and I hope to see several members of the Maryville council down here to attend it. A picture or a word of mouth account would give you an idea of the magnificent accomplishment the work really is much better than I can do through my typewriter. Let me know if anybody comes down, and I'll try to do what I can to entertain them. With all good wishes to you and the other Maryville knights, I am

Very truly yours,
Charles E. Kane.

ARGUE WHILE NATIONAL FAMINE THREATENS

NEITHER MAKES MOVE

Spokesmen from Both Sides Say no Further Offers Will be Made.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Coal miners and operators were temporized today while the national coal famine became more threatening. Announcement was made by spokesman of operators today in view of the fact their two suggestions for twenty per cent increases in wages and arbitration were rejected, no further propositions will be forth coming from their side. The miner representatives also indicated they did not expect to present further propositions to operators as a basis for settlement.

HE COULD ONLY WORK HALF TIME

After Taking Tanlac Scott Gains 36 Pounds—Never Loses An Hour From Work, Now.

"People on all sides are asking me about my wonderful improvement and when my friend over in Kansas, who put me on to Tanlac, sees me again he's going to be surprised, too," said Frank B. Scott, living at 1020 Cherry St., Kansas City, Mo., while in the Owl Drug store, recently.

"For five or six months," he continued, "I had been almost down and out with stomach trouble. In fact, I had lost weight until I was almost a living skeleton and could only work three days a week. What I would eat felt like like lead in my stomach and I would bloat up with sour gas and feel miserable for hours after every meal. I was also badly constipated and would get so dizzy I could hardly stand on my feet. I would lie awake at night until three and four o'clock unable to sleep and was in such a bad shape that I could only work half the time.

"During the five months previous to the time I began taking Tanlac I had paid out fifty dollars for other medicines, but kept getting worse until my friend, who had gotten rid of the some kind of trouble by taking Tanlac persuaded me to try it, and then I commenced to climb up hill right from the start. I have taken five bottles of Tanlac now and am not only enjoying better health than I have in years, but I have actually gained thrity six pounds in weight besides. I can eat anything at any time, sleep like a log every night and work every day, never losing an hour. From now on Tanlac is the medicine for me."

"Tanlac is sold in Maryville by Koch Pharmacy, in Conception Junction by A. M. Colly, in Pickering by H. M. Lincoln, in Burlington Junction by Coster Pharmacy, in Barnard by Bear Drug Co., in Elmo by King Drug Co., in Clearmont by Dr. W. H. Wilcy, in Ravenwood by C. A. Shunk, in Arkoe by Rufus R. Smith, in Hopkins by Hopkins Drugs Co., and in Parnell by F. L. Hart." ADV.

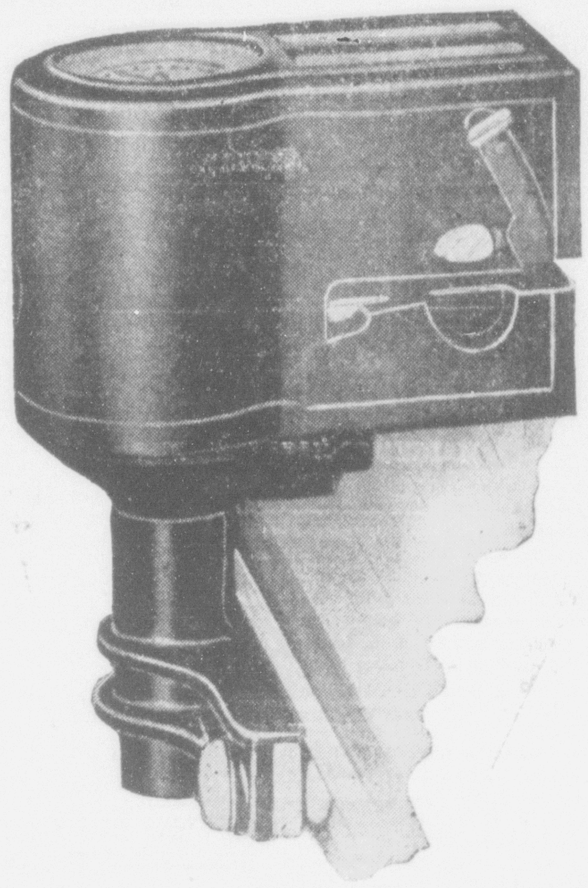
SERVICE

"We cannot improve the fabrics, so we improve the selling methods."

THIS "AD" IS NOT INTENDED TO SELL ANYTHING

It is a little talk about a new device which you will find installed in the Silks, Dress Goods, Linens and White Goods Sections.



On the various counters youll find a little black enameled instrument, with two open spaces on top—one of these spaces looks like a clock face and the other like a multiplication table. The clock face tells the quantity of goods you've purchased, the multiplication table shows the exact amount of your purchase.

These instruments are called

and their purpose is to assist us in giving purchasers of yard goods exact measurement and charging them the correct price on every purchase. This means that you can be waited on more quickly than heretofore, a vital consideration in these busy times; and equally important to us is the knowledge that our patrons receive all that they pay for.

We have four of these "Measuregraphs" in our store and they are very expensive little devices. But expense is not a consideration with us, if it points the way to better service.

First in the installation of many conveniences for the shopping public, this store is also first to install the "Measuregraph."

What Do You Cook With?

The cook stove is always a vexation, and especially when there is a fuel shortage. But even when you can get plenty of coal or wood it is lots of work and lots of muss and dirt to run a cook stove.

The electric range solves all the cook stove problems, and does the work much better than any other kind of stove because the heat can be regulated ABSOLUTELY the way you want it. You couldn't make your wife a present that would do her more good than an electric range.

Come and let us show you the ranges and explain their work and show you what it costs Maryville users to run them.

Maryville Electric Light & Power Company

...ased a new engine and dynamo which will be installed in a few days. This will make six small electric light plants in Parnell. The first plant to be installed was in this office over two years ago and which has supplied number of business houses and residences and the second plant was installed in the residence of George Felton about one year ago. The third plant was purchased by Troy Millikan which is used in his restaurant, barber shop and Dr. Hood, the dentist. The fourth plant was put in by Barton & Evans to be used in their garage for lighting and recharging batteries. The fifth plant is by the Odd Fellows who will use it for lighting their hall and the Bateman harness repair shop. The sixth will be installed by the Harmann garage for lighting purposes and recharging batteries, etc. The town will soon be well lighted in the business district.—Parnell Sentinel.

What came near being a fatal accident occurred yesterday evening as Leslie Richards, Rolla and Robert Street started home for the evening in R. T. Allen's car, driven by Leslie Richards. As he went to go around the corner by the implement house at the north end of Main street the steering gear stuck and would not turn and ran the car off and turned it over in the bottom of the ditch. It lit on Leslie and Robert hurting Leslie's hip and back severly but he is up and around. The mud in the ditch saved them from being crushed.—Guilford Times.

A Woman's Bank

Now that women have the ballot and are recognized everywhere as capable of doing much the same work as men, they have branched out as business executives and many of them are very successful.

But the the most important business in the world is the conduct of a home, and the woman who is capable of successful home management has demonstrated a business ability equal to that of her mate.

Every woman who handles the finances of the home should have a checking account so that she can pay her bills by check, keep an accurate account of her finances without too much trouble and have a receipt for the money she pays out.

This bank takes a personal interest in the accounts of women, has women in charge of some of its important departments and has every convenience for women to transact business in the bank.

CHRISTIAN REVIVAL SERVICE TO BE BIG DAY TOMORROW

Rev. R. E. Snodgrass of the First Christian church will preach tomorrow morning and evening in continuance of the revival which he has been conducting this week.

The morning subject will be "Jesus Life' Triumphantly Ended," and the night topic "Knocking at the Door."

Prof. J. A. Kay who is in charge of the singing will give some extra numbers tomorrow and a special chorus program will be rendered.

The cottage prayer meetings will be continued on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon of next week at 2:30 o'clock.

Last night Mr. Snodgrass took for his sermon subject "Every man in the Job." Some extracts from the sermon follow:

"You must measure the success of this meeting by what you do or do not do not by what the congregation as a whole may or may not do. You must recognize the need of individual responsibility. May every church member strike his indifference and passivity with the smarting blow of individual responsibility. Every man has a job. The great temple at Jerusalem, which reflected the sunlight for its marble sides and golden spiked roof, which was to the jew a sculptured creed, a matchless poem frozen into gold, silver and marble, a warning to infidelity, a proof of israel's consecration and a hymn of praise to God, would never have been built if every person had not been on the job."

"Every person should be on the job because work is a pacificator. If you have any factions in your church just put it down that somebody is on a vacation. The busy christian has no time to fuss. Work is also a srengthener. A six month old baby crawling is all right but a forty year old baby crawling is all wrong. How many forty year old babies we have in our churches. In fact we have so many babies in the church thit it has kept the church membership busy trying to care for them, until they have had no time to go out and try to save those outside the church. If any of you church babies down here expect me to talk baby talk to you, or feed you with a spoon or tote you around and rub your little gums, you have another guess coming. I am here to lead you to the Great Physician and preach to you the meat of redeeming truth. I am not in this meeting to rock the cradle for any of you sleepy heads but I am here to rock this citadel of sin. I am not to umpire any snoring matches but to pronounce victory of sin, flesh and the devil. I am not to prescribe twenty four hours a day rest for you but sixteen hours work for Christ and the Kingdom during this meeting."

REAL ROAD BUILDERS IN PLATTE ON ST. J.-K. C. ROAD

Farmers in That County Along a State Highway Donate $100,000 for Improving the Road.

Many farmers and land owners in Linn and Livingston and other Missouri counties voted against county bonds for the building of a complete county system of hard roads because the tax would amount to about 10c per acre per year, or a total for a farm of 160 acres of about $16 per year for 15 years or a grand total to the farm of $1.50 per acre, or $240.00 This sum stood between these farmers and a system of hard roads.

In contrast with this action is that of the land owners living along a section of the Kansas City, St. Joe State Highway south of Platte City in Platte county. These men wanted to have this road graded and surfaced and wanted to get state and Federal aid on the job. They were informed that the federal aid was about all gone and that unless they acted promptly they would be left out on the present Federal and State funds. On Monday, Nov. 10, 1919 these farmers met at the court room in Platte City and were informed that it would require 46,000.00 to cover the county's 50% to match the state and Federal funds. The farmers and land owners wanted the good road. They were face to face with a business proposition. It was put up the money at once or lose the 50% aid and possibly the good roads. It was not a hot air crowd but men who saw a big public improvement at half price A subscription paper was started and before the meeting ended the entire $66,000 was subscribed and checks for the funds were ither put up or a good guarantee. The donations ranged all the way from $3 to $7 per acre for the lands within two miles on each side of the road.

These men are kind that will make their community grow and improve and push forward. It is a fine example for the farmers in Kansas and Missouri to follow. These paved roads are coming to every county in both these states and that very soon. The men most active in this good roads movement and who were among the most liberal subscribers were. Will Smith, Joe Dillingham, Zollie Jones, Berry Slaon, Wm. Lewis, D. B. Higgins J. E. Roberts, E. S. Dillingham, Mid Payne, A. J. Higgins, Guy Colman, O. A. Chestnut, Geo. Johnson, C. C. Cockrill, James Lewis, Chas. V. Hull and John S. Williams, all of ner Platte City.

Louis Gabbert, and Dr. Hale of Dearborn, a small town on the same road in the north part of Platte county were at the meeting and stated that a subscription fund of $54,000 had been raised by the farmers and land owners along the route north of Platte City to meet 50% of the cost of improving the north section of the road. This made a total of $100,000 in cash by donations to help improve one road across Platte county. Nothing can hold a county back when it is blessed with such progressive citizens as these.

If all of the farmers and land owners in Missouri and Kansas along these proposed improved highways appreciated the value of a 365 day road as fully as these Platte county farmers there would be no bond issue lose and road petitions would have no trouble in getting the required number of signatures of land owners.
